Depopulation? Insurance Companies Note Jump In Death Payouts Amid 40% Rise Among Prime-Age Americans

BY TYLER DURDEN, JANUARY 25, 2022

Insurance companies are reporting a jump in death payouts due to a dramatic rise in the number of deaths. The rise in the death rate is being corroborated by death certificate data from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

The death rate is up by 40 percent from pre-pandemic levels according to Scott Davison, chief executive of OneAmerica, a major insurance company based in Indianapolis. During an online news conference on Dec. 30, 2021, Davison said the change was unprecedented.

"We are seeing, right now, the highest death rates we have seen in the history of this business," he said.

OneAmerica sells life insurance to employers nationwide, and similar figures are found throughout the industry.

"The data is consistent across every player in that business," Davison said. "And what we saw just in the third quarter—we're seeing it continue into the fourth quarter—is that death rates are up 40 percent over what they were pre-pandemic. Just to give you an idea of how bad that is, a three-sigma or a one-in-200-year catastrophe would be a 10 percent increase over pre-pandemic. So 40 percent is just unheard of."

This 40 percent figure doesn't represent folks dying of old age, but is instead a reflection of deaths in working-age adults, aged 18 to 65. However, what's responsible for the alarming spike in fatalities in this age group isn't clear. With all of the concern about COVID-19 lately, the contagion seems a likely choice. But according to Davison, something else is at play. He said the data coming from insurance companies—entities in the business of paying out when people die—show that the deaths being reported as COVID-19 fatalities "greatly understate" the actual deaths from

Also taking part in the news conference was Brian Tabor, president of the Indiana Hospital Association. He also noted a dramatic rise in illness from a different perspective. Tabor said hospitals across Indiana were being flooded with patients "with many different conditions."

In October 2021, The Times of India reported that health insurers saw a "huge surge in non-COVID claims," with the head of interventional cardiology at a Mumbai, India, hospital noting a 40 percent increase in heart problems compared to the previous six to eight months.

Ever since COVID-19 hit, the world has been bracing itself for huge numbers. Most recently in a White House press briefing on Dec. 17, 2021, President Joe Biden warned that unvaccinated Americans can look forward to a "winter of severe illness and death for yourselves, your families, and the hospitals

working age people hit by the pandemic, as most of the claims being filed aren't being classified as COVID-19 deaths.

"It may not all be COVID on their death certificate, but deaths are up just huge, huge numbers," he said.

Still, such astronomical figures emerging all of a sudden are hard to fathom. The pandemic has worn on for nearly two years, and health officials have been keeping a close eye on the death count. What could account for such a dramatic jump at the end of 2021?

ZH: [Answering this question is Epoch's Petr Svab with an in-depth analysis - buckle up]

Americans have been dying at a significantly higher rate over the past two years or so, but the COVID-19 disease tells only part of the story. Among seniors, the pandemic could explain the increase in mortality more easily than among younger people, where there's a gap requiring further explanation.

Overall, there appear to be three distinct patterns in the data based on age:

Among those of age 0 to 17, mortality remained virtually unchanged since 2019.

Among those who were 65 or older, mortality increased in 2020, dropped in the first half of 2021, coinciding with the proliferation of the COVID-19 vaccines, and then increased in the third quarter of 2021, coinciding with the emergence of the Delta variant, which appeared more resistant to the vaccines.

Among those aged 18 to 49, mortality rose dramatically in the first half of 2020, then somewhat plateaued before increasing again in the third quarter of 2021.

The 50 to 64 age group appears to be a mix of the latter two patterns.

COVID-19 Impact

The differences between age groups become more apparent when deaths involving COVID-19 are highlighted.

Under the age of 18, COVID-related deaths barely register when visualized.

For those aged 75 and older, the novel disease more than explains any increases in mortality. For those aged 65 to 74, deaths were on the rise long before the pandemic. Excluding the COVID deaths leaves increases slightly above the previous trend.

Among those aged 18 to 65, however, there emerges the opposite phenomenon—after exclusion of COVID deaths, a significant hike in mortality remains. The non-COVID increase appears more pronounced in the younger age groups and less in the older ones.

There are several factors that would explain at least part of the excess deaths.

Drugs, Alcohol, Murder

Drug overdoses skyrocketed in 2020 with more than 20,000 more dying in the 18–64 age group than the year before. The Centers for Disease Control's (CDC) preliminary data for the first half of 2021 indicates the trend even somewhat intensified.

Centers for Disease Control's (CDC) preliminary data for the first half of 2021 indicates the trend even somewhat intensified.

Deaths involving alcohol—not just alcohol poisoning, but also those due to alcoholic cirrhosis of the liver and other alcohol-induced causes—have been on the rise in recent years, but the 2020 increase was particularly significant. Nearly 8,000 more died in 2020 than the year before in the 18–64 age group. The 2021 data is not yet available.

Homicide deaths increased nearly 30 percent from 2019 to 2020 in the 18–64 age group, accounting for nearly 4,000 excess deaths. Last year is shaping up to be similarly homicidal, based on CDC's preliminary data for the first half of 2021.

With COVID-19 deaths excluded and assuming drug overdoses, alcohol, and homicide deaths continued in 2021 at a similar intensity as the year before, there was still about 50,000 excess deaths last year in the 18–64 age group.

Misclassified, Overwhelmed

The CDC and some experts argue that the excess deaths could be misclassified COVID-19 deaths as well as deaths due to lack of care because of hospitals overwhelmed with COVID patients. They point to the fact that about third of Americans die at home. Their death certificates would be probably written by attending physicians who may not test the patient for COVID-19.

The CDC issued guidance on June 15, 2020, that all people suspected of dying of COVID-19 should be tested post mortem, but it's not clear to what degree medical practitioners are following through on it.

This explanation may be limited for several reasons.

Deaths at home indeed increased with the onset of the pandemic, from less than 32 percent in 2019 to more than 36 percent in June 2020. But then the rate dropped again, to less than 31 percent in December 2020. If people were forced to die at home because medical care wasn't available to them, it doesn't appear to have been widespread enough to explain the excess mortality gap.

The argument for misclassified COVID deaths usually assumes that the dying person was suffering from multiple ailments and the attending physician failed to note COVID-19 as at least a contributing factor. It's not clear how often that applies to younger people who are generally healthier and among whom COVID-19 deaths are rarer and may stand out more.

Finally, the argument appears to use backward reasoning—assuming the excess deaths are caused by COVID-19 and then seeking supporting logic on how that could be.

Vaccines

There's a growing group of doctors and researchers who point to the COVID-19 vaccines as a possible culprit in at least a part of the excess deaths last year. They usually point to several physiological mechanisms through which the vaccines could cause harm combined with known side effects as well as data from the Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS), a database of reports of health problems that have occurred after a vaccination and may or may not have been caused by it.

VAERS reports exploded with the introduction of the COVID-19 vaccines. By Jan. 7, there were over a million reports, including more than 21,000 deaths. Previously, there would be about 40,000 reports and a few hundred deaths a year. They are largely filed by health care personnel, based on previous research.

The usual arguments against the VAERS data have been that it's unverified and unreliable. Some researchers have pointed out, however, that the system isn't meant to provide definitive answers, but rather early warnings. In their view, the reports have raised numerous red flags that haven't been sufficiently investigated.

CDC Data Caveats

The latest detailed cause-of-death data available on the CDC website is for the year 2020. For 2021, CDC has been releasing some preliminary data bi-weekly, but cautions that it has a lag of 8 weeks or more as the death certificate data streams in from around the country. For this analysis, only data up until October has been used. For specific causes of death beyond COVID-19, pneumonia, and influenza, the CDC doesn't break down the available 2021 data by age, limiting its usefulness for this analysis.

In addition, CDC's COVID-19 mortality data that covers 2021 attributes to the virus all deaths where COVID-19 was marked on the death certificate, regardless whether it was listed as the underlying cause or as a contributing factor. Early in the pandemic, the CDC instructed medical practitioners to mark all deceased who had tested positive, and even those with COVID-like symptoms but who had not been tested, as deaths caused by COVID-19. Later in 2020, the guidance gradually changed. Untested cases were to be separated and COVID-19 was required to be at least a contributing factor to be listed on the death certificate.

In the second half of 2020, the last period with available death certificate data on this point, nearly 90 percent of deaths involving COVID-19 had the disease listed as the underlying cause of death rather than a contributing factor.

Some experts have also pointed to government policies as a possible culprit in some excess deaths. School closures and business lockdowns have led to both financial and psychological depression, some research and anecdotal reports indicate, which may have led to death in some cases. Suicide deaths, though, have been relatively stable between 2019 and June 2021, based on available data.

Death After COVID

There may be a more hidden health impact of COVID-19. A study published in December found that people hospitalized for COVID-19 had somewhere between two and three times the risk of dying in the following 12 months of something other than COVID-19 than those going to a doctor, but testing negative.

"This huge explosion of inflammation during a severe episode of COVID seems to be causing a lot of other problems," said Arch Mainous, the lead author of the study and a vice chair for research in the Department of Community Health and Family Medicine at the University of Florida.

"It looks like there is an overall impact on your body from this biological insult," he told The Epoch Times.

The study has several limitations. It included people only from one hospital system in Florida and as such may not fully apply to the entire U.S. population. Also, it controlled for comorbidities, but used the Charlson Comorbidity Index (CCI), which only includes 17 general factors that aren't specific to COVID-19. It includes age as well as issues such as history of heart attack, stroke, cancer, AIDS, cirrhosis, kidney disease, and diabetes. Mainous acknowledged that the index may be less predictive in younger patients.

Finally, the studied population as a whole had on average a particularly high risk of dying. Of the more than 13,600 people included, over 2,600 died within a year—nearly 20 percent. For comparison, Americans of age 85 or higher have about 10 percent annual mortality.

But what's going on with the Biden White House is nothing compared to what's been happening recently with Dr. Anthony Fauci, the entrenched and long-time director of the National Institute of Allergies and Infectious Diseases.

The Jig Is Up, The News Is Out

Thanks to the sudden advent of the amazing Omicron variant, reluctant admissions are now being wrung out of the same corrupt panjandrums that have been running the COVID pandemic response for the past two years, admissions about having vastly inflated both the cases and number of deaths in order to drive a fear narrative.

These admissions are going to lead to massive fallout from an awakening American public that is going to have an incredible amount of anger when the full realization of what was done to it is achieved. The peak anger will likely be reached some time around the Spring of 2022.

Literally untold thousands of people are now dead in nursing homes and hospitals who could have been saved, if only different people without nefarious self-interested agendas had been in positions of responsibility in our federal and state governments.

The reckoning is certainly coming for people like Dr. Anthony Fauci, who is no longer working in the shadows like he did for the previous 40 years as he suppressed cheap drug treatments to champion his own expensive - and often poisonous - patented drugs and vaccines for his Big Pharma business partners. The advent of the COVID-19 pandemic put Fauci on the center stage, out in the open, under the spotlight, where everyone could see him and what he was doing.

Remdesivir Is Just One of the Millstones Around Fauci's Neck

As just one of example of the fallout that Fauci will not survive, consider his pet COVID drug, Remdesivir and how he proudly introduced it to the world.

Fauci chose a live press conference held in the Oval Office with President Donald J. Trump as the perfect venue for the supposedly 'good news' announcement that his pet drug, Remdesivir, had just passed its clinical trials with flying colors, and he was now going to authorize its use as the only drug treatment for COVID-19 and its variants.

It was a great coup for Fauci, who'd already met and defeated the challenge of HCQ as a possible competitor to Remdesivir with a plethora of lies, and who would soon lead a similar campaign of disinformation against Ivermectin. Fauci wanted the Big Pharma vaccines and his pet drug Remdesivir to be the only official games in town, and he succeeded.

In fact, Fauci pulled the 'good news' about Remdesivir out of his ass. All the clinical trials showed that the drug was amazingly toxic and it had a fatality rate of 53% on the patients in the late stages of COVID that it was given to.

That's another thing: Fauci insisted for 2 years there **were no 'proven' early treatments for COVID-19**. He never wavered on this, despite intense pushback from front-line doctors who treated hundreds of thousands of patients and demonstrated the efficacy of drugs like HCQ and Ivermectin as well as immune system-boosting treatments involving Vitamins C & D, Zinc, Quercetin and NAC.

Fauci was so determined to suppress early treatments for COVID that the machine he spent the past 40 years building in American medical community has attacked, slandered and threatened to pull the licenses of doctors who sought to prescribe HCQ and Ivermectin as early treatments for the virus.

Fauci insisted doctors and hospitals provide no early treatments for COVID. Instead, an insane practice was instituted where patients who were COVID-positive were instructed to go home and sit there and wait until the infection reached the late stages, where they were struggling to breath. Then they would be admitted to hospitals and often ended up on ventilators and being pumped full of Remdesivir.

In the past, Fauci had given himself all kinds of cover and layers of bureaucracy for pushing poisonous drugs. He often did this while actively suppressing cheap expired patent drugs that would have competed with the profitable new drugs he was personally shepherding to the marketplace.

He did this with the incredibly toxic and costly AZT back in the late 1980's and early 1990's and so its no real surprise he's done it again during the current pandemic. Fauci was resolutely determined that no cheap, readily available drugs like Hydroxychloroquine or Ivermectin steal the spotlight from his personally anointed Big Pharma masterpiece drug, the hideously expensive Remsdesivir.

How expensive is Remsdesivir? Gilead Sciences set the price between $2,340 to $3,120 per cycle.

And only after thousands of people had this new expensive drug intravenously administered to them did it become evident that far from helping patients recover from a COVID infection or illness, the drug was actually poisoning them, many times fatally.

The drug was so toxic even the mainstream media and health organizations worldwide had to admit it was literally killing half the patients who were being treated with it.

There's Nowhere For Fauci To Hide; There's No One Else For Him To Blame

Understand: Fauci is **not** going to be able to survive the fallout from this. Out of all the evil things this wretched gnome has done over his long sordid career that should have gotten him fired, if not sent to prison, Remsdesivir will do the trick at last.

Fauci has survived to this point by giving himself plausible deniability. He doesn't have it this time with the COVID-19 pandemic. Especially when it comes to his having personally shepherded Remsdesivir to market while ruthlessly suppressing all cheap competitors.

The most damning thing is that the cheap competitors actually worked. His expensive and poisonous vaccines and Remsdesivir did not.

tute of Virology. What Fauci did in managing the COVID virus in America alone is enough to finish him all by itself.

Everybody wants him gone as soon as possible. And it's true he should have been sacked long ago, and should already be facing criminal charges for some of the things he's done.

We don't live in a perfect world. We will have to put up with him for a few more weeks. Maybe even a few more months.

But as in the Biblical story found in the book of Daniel, the handwriting is on the wall. And the writing is clear in what it says. He has been weighed in the balance, and has been found out.

It's only a matter of time.

And once Fauci is finally gone, the corrupt medical system he spent 40 years building can be dismantled and replaced by something better.

History will not be kind to him, and the question of how he managed to get away with his crimes for so long is going to have to be addressed so the American people can ensure there is never a repeat of this kind of thing.

There can Never be another Dr. Fauci.

Are Moderna and Pfizer the Next Enron?

Former Blackrock fund manager Edward Dowd paints a grim picture for Big Pharma's vax kings in a recent interview with Thomas Paine.

Dowd, who grew his fund to $14B by anticipating the next big news, believes bankruptcy is in the cards for the Pharma giants.

"Wall Street is... starting to smell something went really wrong during the whole EUA clinical trials process... Pfizer's clinical trial data was fraudulent (<https://t.me/LibertyOverwatchChannel/5828>). They didn't report the all cause mortality endpoint (<https://t.me/LibertyOverwatchChannel/6238>), which is the gold standard in the drug approval process. They failed that endpoint but they rammed it through," Dowd said.

Comparing the situation to the Great Financial Crisis, Dowd points out that in both cases, "the supposed watchdog... wasn't an objective, disinterested party." Leading up to 2008, "they gave AAA ratings to bonds that lost 60%, which never should have happened." In Covid-1984, instead of the ratings agencies facilitating the con, it's the federal government. "The FDA gets 50% of its budget from Pharma. The fraud couldn't have been perpetuated without CDC and FDA help," explained Dowd.

The falsified trial data and adverse event reports are being "heavily suppressed by our tech overlords and the mainstream media," Dowd continued. "This couldn't have happened without their silence and/or active suppression. I view this as a multi-siloed fraud, called meta-fraud: There's Pharma [where] the fraud originated... media and tech censoring the truth [in exchange for] Pharma spend... and then you've got the government, which was corrupted..."

"It's all going to unravel," Dowd predicts. "People have become rich off of the death and disability of others... Forget about conspiracy theory. This is good old fashioned greed and power... Let me tell you what Pfizer's potential revenues could be if they are successful in mandating this vaccine quarterly... Their revenues go from $52B to $350B overnight... If you don't think that's enough incentive to bribe government officials, you're naive."

Dowd believes Big Insurance will be the catalyst that causes the wheels to come off. Major life insurance firms are reporting multi-sigma increases in non-Covid-related death claims.

OneAmerica (<https://t.me/LibertyOverwatchChannel/6243>) saw deaths climb 40% among the 18 - 64 age cohort during the third quarter of 2021 from the prior year. "Just to give you an idea of how bad that is, a three-sigma or a one-in-200-year catastrophe would be 10% increase over pre-pandemic," CEO Scott Davison said. "So 40% is just unheard of."

Reuters (<https://www.reuters.com/business/life-insurers-adapt-pandemic-risk-models-after-claims-jump-2022-01-13/>) reported that Dutch insurer Aegon, which does two-thirds of its business in the United States, is facing a similar brobdingnagian spike: "claims in the Americas in the third quarter were $111 million, up from $31 million a year earlier."

"Once the [life insurance] trial lawyers get involved in this discovery, that's when the kimono opens up and the flood gates open," Dowd augurs. "It gets wild and woolly then. But that's further down the road once their stock prices have already been beaten into submission."

What about the blanket immunity protection for vaccine manufacturers, Paine asked. "Fraud eviscerates all contracts," Dowd responded. "Moderna and Biontech are going to zero... Pfizer could be a $5 stock."

So we meet again! It's been an event filled year already and we're only 2 months in. I wanted to share with you a post by Ezra Cohen-Watnick that hit me right in the heart. It says all the things I wanted to say to you this month:

This post comes as my grandchildren, who were removed from my life for not thinking right, resurfaced with pleas of "wear your mask everywhere you go, and please get all the shots so we can see you. My parents are afraid you will get us all sick." My grandson, at the ripe old age of ten tells us we're losing precious time and memories because "my mom and dad don't like you guys anymore." – Can you imagine? This edition is dedicated to the question of Depopulation. I share a post by Dr. Mikovits that reads: According to Israel funeral directors the number of dead, especially younger people, has overwhelmed their capacity to give everyone a proper burial. Israel has the most 4-booster vaccinated people. Israeli people are not dying from omicron. They are dying from vaccine induced AIDS. The vaccine destroyed the immune systems of the Israeli people. What the Nazi's started, the Israel government is finishing. Death by vaccine.

Our commercial media has been complicit in the crimes against humanity forced upon all nations. And now we see people dropping like flies in a kitchen window of those who dutifully signed on because the government and the media know best. As we approach the coming months and years that will surely be gut wrenching, remember to love one another like these are our last days, as they may surely be.

The long-term fallout from the insurance data in the lead article could well mean that life insurance policies will be discontinued when the life insurance companies run out of money due to all the payouts. With the deaths happening "seemingly" out of nowhere, will the payouts potentially be curtailed by requiring an HIV test prior to payout? Is HIV a cancellable diagnosis for insurance policies? What recourse will the life insurance companies have when facing bankruptcy from a once in 800 year death event? I have been watching the Worldometer and will attempt to pull figures for future publication and comparison.

God Bless everyone one of you holding the line to remain Free. Freedom is everything. Freedom is the ONLY THING.

Remain in prayer knowing that despite what we see today, God has already won!

Wokeism Is A Cruel And Dangerous Cult

By Tyler Durden — January 30, 2022

Authored by Victor Davis Hanson via AmGreatness.com.

Wokeism's natural logic is to destroy the lives of people of both genders, of all races, and - if need be - of those of every age, all to leverage an otherwise unworkable ideological agenda...

Wokeism has been described by its critics as the omnipresent use of race—and to a lesser extent, gender—to replace meritocracy and thus ensure equality of result. What follows from implementing that ideology are reparatory actions to reward those of the present by atoning for the injustices done to others in the past.

Some see it as an update of 1960s cultural Marxism fads. Others scoff that it is just a return to 1980s-style political correctness.

Still more see it as the logical successor to 1990s-type race, class, and gender obsessions—albeit with a shriller and more dangerous Jacobin, Soviet, and Maoist twist. Wokeism's hysteria also invites comparisons to the Salem witch trials and McCarthyism.

But few have described wokeism as the cruel creed that it is.

Wokeism's natural logic is to destroy the lives of people of both genders, of all races, and—if need be—those of every age, all to leverage an otherwise unworkable ideological agenda. It is nihilist and destroys everything it touches. It tears apart foes and friends alike, whether by fueling media-driven hatred of Donald Trump or faux-deification of the disaster that is now Joe Biden.

Woke's Victims

Defunding law enforcement and defaming police resulted in record numbers of murders in 12 U.S. cities, conviction, and incarceration. A wave of violent crime is even hitting America's suburbs.

Without much fear of arrest, indictment, emboldened violent career criminals for the past year have robbed, assaulted, and killed the innocent with impunity.

The victims at the bus stop, the subway, or in the furniture store do not seem to warrant media or progressive attention, much less sympathy.

They are the ignored—the unnamed, and the forgotten collateral damage from the grand experiment of redefining crime as a social construct. The guilty are the elite academics, activists, and billionaires like George Soros who are untouched by what they birthed.

We have all seen videos of the vast expanse of flotsam and jetsam strewn by train thieves along the Union Pacific tracks in Los Angeles. Yet the Wild West mess is still more than just the concrete manifestations of Los Angeles County district attorney George Gascón's unhinged efforts to excuse criminals from legal consequences.

The packages thrown along the ground by thugs and gangsters represent, among other things, lost COVID-19 test results of the ill. Presumably, they unknowingly are waiting still by the window for the delivery of results that never arrive. The package in the dirt was, perhaps, a key tractor part eagerly awaited, in vain, by the broke farmer in the Central Valley. The mess included the life-saving medicines shipped to the sick that disappeared.

And our elected leaders did what in response? Governor Gavin Newsom apologized for using the insensitive word “gangs” to describe those who plunder, loot, and trash railcars.

Always In Search of Targets

It is a cruel thing to indoctrinate children with the lie that they are innately guilty of oppression due to their skin color. One accurate definition of racism is collective ill-treatment of an individual due to his innate appearance—on the pretext that such bias is deserved, given the target is deemed mentally, spiritually, or morally inferior because of said traits. But that, in a nutshell, is the essence of critical race theory: the destruction of all human traits and unique characteristics, as demonized individuals are reduced to stereotyped, faceless members of a collective.

For over a half-century, female athletes have sought to achieve parity in society’s attitudes to sports. Title IX forced universities to ensure rough equality for both female and male sports.

But the woke effort to redefine transitioning biological males as identical to biological women will assuredly destroy the life work of thousands of pioneer athletes.

Ironically, the sexist woke movement has allowed men to take hormones and undergo surgery to become females—even as their immutable skeleton frames, muscularity, or organ characteristics ensure an unfair and asymmetrical contest. The lives of thousands of young female athletes will likely be diminished. Each sprinter, every swimmer, and all female pole-vaulters will now inevitably at some future date have a rendezvous with career implosion—defined by losing to a transgendered female/biological male.

Records are being rewritten, the very nature of individual women’s sports changed, and soon there will no longer remain an idea of “women’s sports” at all.

The Forgotten Broken Eggs of the Woke Omelet

The green wokeists postulate that they are saving lives by radical efforts to restrict gas and oil production, to raise fuel prices. They want to force Americans to buy high-priced alternative sources of wind- and solar-generated power and battery-powered cars. But away from the faculty lounge, millions of Americans are colder and less mobile this winter, paying far more to heat their homes and to drive to work.

Most of the woke climate change activists rarely see the poor trying to empty their purses to scrounge combinations of cash and credit cards to leverage over $100 to fill their cars’ gas tanks. Tesla drivers might be the architects of last year’s war on carbon fuels. But real-life victims pay for their piety—those who have no such options to buy high-priced electric cars.

For the cosmopolitan woke, the border is many things: a mere xenophobic construct, a racist barrier, a nationalist tic.

But the thousands who live near the Mexican border see their homes and farms overrun with drug traffickers—and during a pandemic thousands of unvaccinated and possibly sick illegal aliens. They suffer firsthand from daily violence as all security disappears.

For the American poor, who rely on government health clinics and state entitlements, the influx of thousands of illegal aliens into their communities becomes a zero-sum game. The more noncitizens put demands on such already oversubscribed services, the fewer citizens there are who will have access to quality care.

The woke lecture that colleges and universities must now go beyond their former de facto racial quotas for admissions and hiring, already mostly based on proportional representation and disparate impact. But now a sort of reparations system emerges. It is what the Left itself used to call in derision “overrepresentation.”

Equity in our Orwellian world is not equality, but payback. Again, it is the idea of making the current generation pay for the supposed sins of the long dead of centuries past.

Aside from the destruction of merit by the substitution of racial criteria, millions from a discarded generation will have doors slammed on their careers—simply because of the color of their skin. And they will never forget that.

The woke do not even make the effort to admit that class matters as much as, or more than, race. By doing so, they doom millions of poor white and Asian students, who managed in poverty to achieve excellent grades and test scores, from being admitted to top-tier schools. Their actual achievement, despite their absence of wealthy, college-educated, or well-connected parents, means little.

Once a morally bankrupt society—for naïve, utopian, or ignoble reasons—begins to calibrate graduation ceremonies, dorm space, roommate selection, achievement, and grading standards based on race, then it not only will lose its standard of living, but it will deserve to. And it may have a future date with the violence of Rwanda, Iraq, or the Bal- kins.

Power, Not “Equity,” Is the Creed

In sum, wokeness is not about kindness, equality, fairness, or morality.

It is the power agenda of the elite of all races. For differing reasons, they rig the game in their own interests, without a care about who suffers.

Rich white people assume that they possess the money, the influence, the networking skills, and the connections to navigate around the very exclusionary rules they make for others. For them, there are seldom costs. But they win apparent psychological gain at feeling spiritually superior while driving a Range Rover.

They get high on the sense of power they wield to engineer the lives of millions deemed less important than they. And to the degree they feel guilty about their own monopoly of wealth and leisure, such transient superficial remorse is alleviated by abstract caring for the “other.”

If they can ensure that 50 percent of TV commercials highlight African Americans, then they worry little about the nation’s existential crisis of 800 blacks murdered in Chicago last year. And no such television execs have a clue—or likely a concern—about how to stop it.

The woke take out a medieval contract that all their material indulgences can be balanced by virtue-signaling caring for the less fortunate—although always at someone else’s expense.

Woke = Wealthy Careerists

And for the millions of the affluent, elite nonwhite? The resurgence of racial obsessions conveniently destroys the old idea of class, even though now it is the far more precise calibration of inequality.

For all the woke talk about “constructs” of gender, race is somehow alone exempted and declared innate, definable, and immutable. One’s appearance becomes the permanent victimized refuge—even of NBA multibillionaires and billionaire rappers alike.

A Ward Churchill or Elizabeth Warren can desperately seek to leverage a career in becoming Native American, apparently as if they were almost trapped in their own white bodies. Yet they can still not manage to construct such assumed identities in the manner of Bruce/Caitlyn Jenner.

If race is now the sole immutable barometer of who is a victim, who a victimizer, then LeBron James, Jay-Z, Kanye West, Chris Rock, Michelle Obama, and Oprah Winfrey are always to be among the eternally oppressed. The enormous influence, power, status, and wealth they wield never negates their victimhood, despite a nation three generations into affirmative action.

In the immoral calculus of woke, the poor white or Southeast Asian offspring of poorly paid high-school dropouts constitute “the privileged.” And a multimillionaire racist like the TV anchorwoman Joy Reid claims to be the perpetual victim, not the inner-city African American retiree who in 2021 has lost local police protection.

No wonder the woke elite and the affluent leftists fixate on race, given they are now the ruling class. Otherwise, their own privilege would be the obvious target of the once-beloved “Revolution.”

So, they fear that by their own prior left-wing standards, they too could end up on the wrong side of their moral Maginot Line. Wokeism’s obsessions with ferreting out “white privilege” are a way for rich people to head off (so to speak) the fate of Marie Antoinette.

Totalitarian Wokeism

A final note. We know wokeism is both contrary to human nature and antithetical to democracy and constitutional government.

Without public support, it has instead embraced an entire array of cruel, Soviet, and Maoist means to achieve its own self-interested ends. Woke talk about “racists” eerily emulates Soviet boilerplate about “counterrevolutionaries.” Today’s wokeist spouts things that could come right out of the mouth of the novelist Boris Pasternak’s character Army Commissar Strelnikov, or Mao’s Little Red Book concerning “suppression of counterrevolutionaries.”

No wonder the woke, so-called “humanists” are the first to resort to Trotskyization and iconoclasm. They are masters of censoring, blacklisting, scapegoating, deplatforming, ritual humiliation, doxxing, cancel-culture, ostracism, and disbarring.

Wokeism’s logic is the eternal one of the bully Jacobin with his guillotine lists of the revolutionary unpure, the 19th-century lynch mob storming the frontier jail, the Red Guards hounding the counterrevolutionary, and the forced mental hospitalizations of the Soviet Union.

But above all, wokeism is a cruel cult—created by and for the careerist benefit of the privileged.

Pedophiles in America

Meet Leonard F. Hewitt Sr., 51, and Krystyn Anne Smock, 40. They ran the House of Evil. Charmed, I'm Sure!

Man, Woman Sentenced for Sexually Abusing Children in 'House of Evil'

By: B911, January 24, 2022

PHILADELPHIA – A man and woman will face decades in state prison for the repeated sexual assault of three children under the age of 13, abuse that they also filmed in more than 40 videos of child pornography.

Leonard F. Hewitt Sr., 51, and Krystyn Anne Smock, 40, both of Bristol Township, committed the acts for more than four years from January 2014 to October 2019, the investigation uncovered. One of the victims came forward in January 2020, leading to their arrests shortly after. The two pleaded guilty last year on a number of felony sex offenses, including rape of a child, involuntary deviate sexual intercourse of a child, aggravated indecent assault of a child, photographing, videotaping, depicting on computer or filming sexual acts, and criminal conspiracy.

They appeared Tuesday, Jan. 18, 2022, before President Judge Wallace H. Bateman Jr. for sentencing. Calling their actions monstrous, Bateman said the "abuse occurred by two people who are supposed to care for them, protect them and love them."

"You were supposed to protect them," he said before sentencing Hewitt to 20 to 40 years in state prison and Smock to 15 to 30 years in state prison. Both will be required to register as sex offenders for the rest of their lives.

In a victim impact statement, the father of one of the victims described Hewitt and Smock's home as a "house of evil." He said his daughter had "her childhood stolen from her."

In January 2020, one of the victims, a 10-year-old girl who moved to Lawrence County, participated in a forensic interview at the Children's Advocacy Center there and said she was sexually assaulted by Hewitt inside his home in Bristol Township. The girl said the assaults happened on multiple occasions.

Bristol Township Detective Alexander Asmann began investigating and spoke to a second girl who said she was also sexually abused by Hewitt, beginning when she was 12 or 13 years old.

During an interview with a third victim, a 14-year-old boy, told Asmann that Hewitt showed him videos on his cellphone that showed the first victim being sexually abused by Smock while Hewitt filmed. The boy said there were about five videos on the phone. As a result, a search warrant was obtained for any cell phone or video equipment that belonged to Hewitt, in order to retrieve the videos that were described, Deputy District Attorney Kristin McElroy said Thursday, leading to the recovery of a video camera.

The recordings on the camera spanned a number of years, going back as far as 2014. The videos found on the camcorder showed the repeated sexual abuse of the first victim by Hewitt while Smock recorded. Based on the time stamp of the first videos, the victim would be about 5 years old, McElroy said in court. Police found even more homemade child pornography after seizing Hewitt's cellphone, and three cellphones and a laptop that belonged to Smock.

"In total, over 40 videos were recovered depicting homemade child pornography with the [three victims]," McElroy said Thursday. "These defendants are depraved," District Attorney Matt Weintraub said after sentencing. "What they did to these children is unspeakable. Our only consolation is that these predators will be separated from society for decades."

This case was investigated by Bristol Township Police Detective Alexander Asmann and was prosecuted by Deputy District Attorney Kristin McElroy.

Fired Pharmaceutical Workers Explain Why They Didn't Get COVID-19 Shots

WTM, February 3, 2022

A major pharmaceutical company this week fired many employees who refused to get the COVID-19 vaccine. Syneos Health is a global pharmaceutical outsourcing company with some 28,000 employees in more than 110 countries. It contracts with bigger pharmaceutical companies including COVID-19 vaccine maker Johnson & Johnson/Janssen.

"It's the same exact job, same exact customers, same exact expense reporting. Everything is the same, we're just employed through different employers. And yet we're being forced to be vaccinated and they're not. We're being told it's because we can't do our job, yet my Janssen counterpart can be unvaccinated, have an exemption, and still do the same exact job," one sales representative told The Epoch Times.

Two recently fired Syneos pharmaceutical representatives spoke with The Epoch Times on the condition of confidentiality as they finalize their employment benefits and search for new work.

They said J & J is granting permanent medical and religious exemptions for their employees, allowing them to keep their jobs, but Syneos exemptions were temporary and their time to comply is up.

Employees who applied for exemptions from the shots got a "good news/bad news" letter from Syneos on Dec. 9. The good news: the company was granting a temporary exemption. The bad news: The exemption ended on Jan. 31, along with their jobs. Until then, employees were not allowed to enter any U.S. Syneos building.

Florida employees got a different letter, granting them a temporary exemption from the vaccine. The letter allows them to enter Syneos buildings in Florida, but company buildings outside the state are off-limits. Their exemptions will be re-evaluated in 30 days, the letter said. Those in Florida are protected by a state law making it more complicated for companies to mandate COVID-19 shots.

Syneos pharmaceutical sales representatives, many with science or health backgrounds, attend a two-month pharmaceutical school when hired. Here, they are taught the science behind the drugs they sell. They were not selling COVID vaccines, but they have a working knowledge of pharmaceuticals.

"A lot of us were questioning the shots because they didn't go through the proper safety and efficacy studies that are traditionally required for all medications. And being in the medical industry, part of our job is discussing safety and efficacy about our products and our competitors' products with doctors, physician assistants, and nurse practitioners. For there not to be safety and efficacy data with these COVID shots, many of us wanted to wait," one former Syneos employee said.

These employees didn't view the shots as "bad." They just wanted more data before making a decision. Many people took the shots without questioning it.

"The government said do this; it is in your best interest and you can go back to normal,"

a former employee said. "As time has gone on, we've seen, obviously, these are not actual vaccines that inoculate you and give you immunity. And there are a lot of reports of—and people that we know personally—who have been injured from these shots, so there's a good percentage of us that never got them. As data continued to come in, we were not going to get them."

The Two Faces of Mitt Romney

Patriot Alerts

Mitt Romney's 9/11 involvement & Burisma / Ukraine. Do NOT let this go unshared & slip through the cracks.

Mitt Romney turned on Trump. Why?

"Romney's National Security Advisor for his 2012 Presidential Campaign, Joseph Cofer Black, sits on the Board of the same Burisma Holdings that was being investigated for corruption back in 2014, yet Vice President Joe Biden & the criminal Obama Admin demanded any criminal investigation into Burisma be shut down. Why? Cuz Burisma was/is their mechanism for illegal arms dealings throughout the world.

Romney has long been rumored to be the recipient of hush money paid to offshore accounts for his complicity in leading investigations astray. In this sense, Romney has become a Democratic operative within the Deep State. Romney's criminal trail becomes very conspiratorial when we also include that former CIA Director, John Brennan, a 9/11 co-conspirator & his Deep State partner, Cofer Black, is still the link that issued the passports to the 19 Saudis that hijacked the planes on 911. The central thread that ties together Romney, Brennan & Cofer Black is Burisma. Opening up Burisma is the key to revealing the depth of the depravity & criminality of most Democratic leaders as well as the Republican, in name only, Mitt Romney.

Ukraine is the center of corruption, with regard to illegal arms dealing & also serves as the Democrats' shadow organization for corrupt activities such as child-sex-trafficking & drug running.

When Donald Trump became President, the Ukrainian corruption became a case of inevitable discovery by Trump if he were to be elected President. This is why Obama sponsored illegal spying, through the Fusion GPS, into Trump, then just a private citizen. The Democrats & Romney began to develop plans to remove Trump in order to prevent the inevitable discovery of the depth of Ukrainian corruption. So why did Romney want to shut down any investigation of Ukraine's role as well?

Romney's National Security Advisor, Cofer Black, sits on the Board of the same Burisma Holdings that was being investigated for corruption back in 2014, & the Vice President & Obama Administration demanded be shut down. Why? Because Burisma was/is their vehicle for corrupt practices in Eastern Europe. This is the Pandora Box that had to be shut down.

This led to the Russian collusion and now the quid pro quo related to Ukraine and the impeachment trial.

CIA Director, John Brennan's 9/11 Deep State partner, Cofer Black, is still the link to all that goes on there. Burisma is at the heart of Ukraine corruption & this matters greatly to Mitt Romney as he is not yet done with politics. If Cofer Black is prosecuted, it will reflect on Romney. Romney wanted to run for President again in 2024 & he needs to distance himself from Cofer Black, John Brennan as well as the Bidens.

Cofer Black joined the CIA in 1974 & rose to be appointed by George W Bush to be Director of The National Counterterrorism Center IN THE YEARS SURROUNDING THE SEPTEMBER 11th 2001 ATTACKS on the WTC's, before joining Mitt Romney's campaign.

Standing in the way of Romney's Presidential desires is the fact that Burisma Holdings is the centerpiece of U.S. Democrat activities that serves corrupt both Ukraine & American politics. Romney's political ambitions took a hit when Zelensky became Ukraine's President & he wouldn't play ball with the Deep State. The walls were really closing in on Mitt Romney, cuz former Ukrainian prosecutor, Viktor Shokin has filed criminal charges against Joe Biden for his role in covering up this corruption. The longer that this goes on, the more the Romney-Cofer Black connection will become a detriment to the ambitions of Mitt Romney.

This brings into the Romney associates sphere of influence the Bidens, John Kerry's step son, et al. Daley and myself made an excellent case that Black had ample warning to head off the 911 attacks and did not because that was not what is Deep State handlers wanted. If Romney was to ever, once again, run for President, this would come up.

The March toward normalizing Pedophilia gains ‘credibility by “Professor”’

“Imagine that an adult male wants to have sex with a 12-year-old girl. Imagine that she’s a willing participant. A very standard, very widely held view is that there is something deeply wrong about this; and it’s wrong independently of it being criminalized. It’s not obvious to me that that is in fact wrong. I think this is a mistake, and I think exploring why it’s a mistake will tell us not only things about adult/child sex and statutory rape, but also about the fundamental principles of morality.” ~Stephen Kershner

<https://rumble.com/vtudbi-professor-raises-eyebrows-with-remarks-about-sexual-intercourse-between-adults.html>

He also said, “the notion that it’s wrong...even with a one-year-old, it’s not quite obvious to me.” He pointed out that in “at least one culture,” there are reports of grandmothers allegedly “fellating their baby boys to calm them down when they’re colicky. I don’t know if it’s true...if this were to be true...it’s hard to see what would be wrong with it.” He said he doesn’t think there’s a “blanket period beyond which this is permissible if we’re interested in willing participation... I don’t think it’s a blanket wrong at any age.”

- Teaching children that respect does not mean blind obedience to adults and to authority, for example, don’t tell children to, always do everything the teacher or baby-sitter tells you to do

- Encouraging professional prevention programs in the local school system

Because of the possible devastating effects of child sexual abuse, sexually abused children and their families need immediate professional evaluation and sexual abuse treatment. Psychiatrists and psychologists that specialize in helping sexually abused children are particularly helpful. Professional help can help the child regain a sense of control over life and can help deal with the feelings of shame or guilt over the abuse. This help can begin the process of recovery from the trauma and prevent future problems.

Author’s Note: While I don’t profess to be a psychiatrist, I know people suffering from Dissociative Identity Disorder (DID) that is a direct result of the child having been sexually put upon by adults. The child was fractured and transformed because adults like Mr. Kershner couldn’t see how “obvious[ly]” wrong it was. Normalizing pedophilia is a dangerous & disgusting Pandora’s box.

Eyes turn to Hillary Clinton, not Trump in the Russiagate scandal

By Post Editorial Board

February 13, 2022

So there you have it.

Russiagate, the collective delusion that Donald Trump was secretly a Russian agent aided and abetted by the Kremlin, the topic of uncountable inches of Washington Post and New York Times copy and the entire primetime lineup of MSNBC, was a dirty trick by the Hillary Clinton campaign. Not just part of it. All of it. One of the most diabolical, successful misinformation campaigns ever concocted.

We already knew that the Steele dossier was garbage. Christopher Steele was paid indirectly by the Clinton campaign to dig up dirt, which he did by turning to other Clinton operatives, laundering every outlandish rumor about Trump he could find into an “investigative” document.

He shopped it to the FBI, which couldn’t verify his sources or any of his stories, but the agency dragged out the investigation to cast maximum suspicion on the new president. In the meantime, Steele found willing accomplices in the media to push his propaganda. The dupes at BuzzFeed even decided to print the whole pack of lies, with the flimsy rationale of “Well, why not?”

We got to the point where New York magazine was running a cover story that was one long piece of fan fiction that Trump was secretly a real-life version of “The Americans,” a sleeper agent now seated in the highest office in the land. The Times and Washington Post won a freaking Pulitzer!

A made-up story

Now another piece of Russia, Russia, Russia is kaputski. A computer server operated by Trump’s company was secretly communicating with a Russian firm, claimed Slate magazine and endless Twitter threads of would-be tech experts.

But as special counsel John Durham outlines in his latest indictment, that was just a story made up by tech executive Rodney Joffe, who picked privileged Internet data he had access to, and molded it to look like something nefarious.

He was coached by lawyer Michael Sussmann — who was being paid by the Clinton administration, although he lied about that to investigators. Sussmann goes to the FBI as a “concerned citizen” — not a “Clinton stooge”

So there you have it.

Russiagate, the collective delusion that Donald Trump was secretly a Russian agent aided and abetted by the Kremlin, the topic of uncountable inches of Washington Post and New York Times copy and the entire prime-time lineup of MSNBC, was a dirty trick by the Hillary Clinton campaign. Yet another so-called ‘conspiracy theory’ is proven out. Which, by the way, seems to be happening a lot lately. 😊 — to try to get them to bite. The ultimate goal: Be able to leak to the Times that Trump is under official investigation.

Durham “definitely showed that the Hillary Clinton campaign directly funded and ordered its lawyers at Perkins Coie to orchestrate a criminal enterprise to fabricate a connection between President Trump and Russia,” says Kash Patel, the former chief investigator for the House Intelligence Committee.

Beyond outrageous

Of course, Hillary didn’t get what she wanted — the presidency. But her operatives didn’t stop, going on CNN to give “very concerned” interviews about a theory they knew was bull. All to undermine Trump’s presidency. It would take three years for the Mueller report to finally put the lie to rest, and we’re now, five years out, at the point where Durham is detailing the full conspiracy.

If this had happened to a Democrat, the press would be losing its mind. A candidate for president weaponized the nation’s Justice Department to pursue an investigation into their political opponent based on what they knew were lies. Americans were wiretapped! Some were entrapped for flimsy claims of perjury. The director of the FBI went into the Oval Office to tell the president that there was a sexual rumor floating around, so that it could be promptly leaked to the media. “Outrageous” doesn’t cover it. And still no shame from Hillary Clinton and her supporters, because it’s Donald Trump — anything is fair game to take him down.

All these things we’ve been lectured about over the past four years: Norms being broken, internet misinformation, perversion of government — it was all happening. It was the Democrats who were doing it. Think anyone in the left-wing media will notice?
